Coach Education and Development Model

There are two key aspects to the development of informed and competent volleyball coaches;

- The Coach Education Programme which is the formal programme for the identification and exchange of information on coaching practice and the game of volleyball.
- The Coach Development Programme which is a series of initiatives - CPD Clinics - Mentoring Programmes - Scholarship Programmes - opportunities to shadow and work with more experienced coaches, that are designed to help develop excellence in coaching practice.

The model displayed on this page attempts to highlight the relationships between these two different, but equally important elements.

Further information on courses and development opportunities can be obtained from the Scottish Volleyball Association Office.
